

Mrs. E. E. Pickard Honored at Bridge

Mrs. McReynolds and Mrs. Fred Honors Sister From Atlanta.

Mrs. E. E. Pickard and Mrs. Walter Fred honored their sister, Mrs. E. E. Pickard, of Atlanta, with a beautiful bridge party this afternoon at the home of Mrs. McReynolds in Highland Park.

Pink and white was the color scheme that was carried out in the decorations of the house and in the salad and ice course that was served in the late afternoon. A basket of pink roses was the centerpiece in the dining room and cut flowers were used in the living room where the tables for the games were arranged.

Those present were Mrs. E. E. Pickard, Mrs. Fred Lupton, Mrs. J. B. Powell, Mrs. A. C. W. Williams, Mrs. Avis Olmstead, Mrs. Lee Davenport, Mrs. Withers Howell, Mrs. Tom Davenport, Mrs. Dyer Butler, Mrs. Miss Margaret Ochs, Mrs. Mark Morrison, Mrs. J. L. Caldwell, Mrs. Norman Raul, Mrs. Kenneth Whitaker, Mrs. Katharine Andrews, Mrs. J. M. Grier, Mrs. A. J. Moore, Mrs. Robert Davis, Mrs. Walter Cuppington, Mrs. J. F. Finley, Mrs. Alex Guerry, Mrs. George Patten and Mrs. Sam Connolly.

The ceremony was performed in the large living room of the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Hattie Allen Cooke, on Belmont boulevard, before an improvised embankment of palms and ferns which were arranged as an altar.

Following a reception for congratulations, Mr. and Mrs. Tilghman left for his home in Florida. From there they will make a ten-day trip on the St. Johns river in the groom's private yacht. After 25 they will be located in Palatka.

TURNER-FORD

Mrs. Catherine Elizabeth Ford and William Clyde Turner were married Friday evening in Dr. Bachman's study of the First Presbyterian church.

The attendants were Miss Maude Chapman, maid of honor, and J. T. Moreland, best man.

A supper was served after the ceremony at the home of the bridegroom's father, W. C. Turner, on Fairview avenue.

After a brief wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Turner will be at home at 1015 Fairview avenue.

HALE-JEUNOT

The marriage of Miss Nellie B. Jeunot to Alan J. Hale was solemnized Friday, Dec. 17, in the study of Centenary church, Dr. Neighbors officiated. Miss Gladys Wilder and Mr. and Mrs. Ewing M. Renegar were the only attendants.

After a brief wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Hale will be with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Jeunot, in North Chattanooga.

MRS. BISHOP HOSTESS

Honors Son's Sixth Birthday With Party.

Mrs. J. W. Bishop entertained in honor of the sixth birthday of her son, J. W. Bishop, Jr., at her home on Lookout mountain this afternoon.

The Christmas idea was carried out in the decorations. The children drew Santa Claus favors from a table by numbers. The places of the children at the table were marked with "noisemakers." The ice was frozen in the shape of Santa Claus.

A game of pinning the pack on Santa Claus was a feature of the afternoon's entertainment.

About thirty-five guests were present.

Mallison, who is in the city to spend the holidays at Royal Oaks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Warner, on yesterday were the honor guests of a luncheon which Mrs. Mallison's sister, Mrs. Luke Lea, gave. Mrs. Lea entertained at the Nashville Golf and Country club, one of the private dining rooms being used.

VESPER SERVICE SUNDAY

Rev. Lawrence Faucett will be the speaker at the Y. W. C. A. Vesper service Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Music will be furnished by members of St. Paul's Episcopal choir. The service is an open one and the public is cordially invited.

Christmas Tree For B. Y. P. U.

One of the very first Christmas entertainments given was that of the B. Y. P. U. of the First Baptist church, Friday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Williams on Cameron Hill.

Christmas decorations were in evidence everywhere, holly, bells, cedar and potted plants being used.

After the guests had all assembled Santa Claus appeared and led the way to the inclosed porch where a Christmas tree was displayed. It was trimmed with the regulation ornaments and lighted with various colored electric bulbs, making a beautiful scene.

Gifts were handed from the tree for each member present. These consisted of books, whistles and all sorts of things that might be given to children, though the guests were composed of grown-ups.

Was given a tarlatan bag filled with fruits, nuts and candies and they were supposed to sit down on the floor like little children and eat them. A number of letters were also read from the different ones present, telling Santa just what to bring them. These were, of course, in the nature of jokes.

Fun and games followed, serving throughout the evening. Walter H. impersonated Santa Claus. The most interesting were:

Misses—May Devera, Louise Russell, Nellie Moulton, Thelma Hinton, Irene Smith, Ruth Trimby, Gertrude Wright, Maude Barnes, Mary Pearce, Mary Thornton, Adelle May Barnes, Susie Ingie, Mary Thornton, Bent Gillespie, Messrs—L. Dodson, James Buford, J. B. Harralson, Corbin Woodward, Wendell Kennedy, Fred Deering, Jr., John Dayton, Arnold Burnett, Walter Her, Raymond Hudson, Llewellyn Chapman, R. Wilhoite, Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Inzer, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. May, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Williams.

Besides the members quite a number of guests called during the evening.

Among The Sick

Mrs. Slater Varnell, who has been ill at the Physicians and Surgeons hospital, has been removed to her home in Highland Park.

Mrs. W. B. Swaney has been removed to the Erlanger hospital, where she underwent an operation, to her home on High street.

Mrs. Ernest G. Taylor, who recently underwent an operation on her throat, continues quite ill at her home in Highland Park.

CHRISTMAS PLAY AT JUNIOR HIGH TUESDAY

The annual community play at the Junior High school, carrying out the white Christmas idea, will be given at the school Tuesday night, Dec. 21, at 8 o'clock.

An elaborate musical program has been arranged by Miss Emily Moff. Over 300 voices will be employed in three separate choirs. One of these will be composed of boys, one of girls and one of both boys and girls. There will also be outside carol singers.

After the musical feature a one-act play entitled "The Chinese Ring" will be given under the direction of Miss Margaret Forger. This play is an adaptation of the story by the same name written by Raymond McDonald. The parts of Holger and Steen, the two brothers, will be taken by Louis Cash and J. D. Walton, respectively. "Uncle Bertie" will be impersonated by Carl Stage, head of the commercial department.

Mrs. Leonard, Moll Atlee will take the part of a "tired wayfarer." The parts of the lords and ladies will be taken by the people of the community.

Those attending are requested to bring gifts of canned goods and other necessities for the white war, for the benefit of the Vine Street orphanage.

All the love connected with international marriages is usually of the cold-storage brand.

Between some men and women the only apparent difference is that sponges will take water.

Wardens of the Gates.

They are guarding many a gateway.

O'er all the earth today. Grim warriors of a thousand fights, Strong and hard and gray. And some of them are young in years. And some are gray with others' cares.

Sometimes a little woman, Battle-stained and worn. Sometimes a grim white alderhood, Friend to the Cross and Thorn. Guarding many a gateway still With stubborn bravery and with skill.

Most of the earth has run amuck. With horror, greed or pain. And mountains high loom up the need

Of those for whom were slain Lads that we loved and men of ours—

Now sleeping 'neath the grass and flowers.

And other wardens, legions, Whom yet no eye may see. They throng the purple vastness From sea to farthest sea. They gave their lives, their all they gave.

A world from shame and greed to save.

—Marie Batterham Lindsay.

A fool at forty may have been wise at twenty.

ARMOUR'S DAUGHTER TO WED BANKER'S SON

Chicago, Dec. 18.—The engagement of Miss Lolita Armour, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ogden Armour, to John J. Mitchell, Jr., son of the chairman of the board of directors of three of Chicago's largest banks, has been announced.

Miss Armour attracted nation-wide attention as one of the first patients of Dr. Adolf Lorenz, who was brought from Vienna in 1902 when she was 6 years old to remedy a congenital dislocation of both hip joints by bloodless surgery. It was the first time this operation had been performed in America and was declared a pronounced success.

Young Mitchell narrowly escaped death while in the navigation service during the war at Key West, Fla., when Student Aviator Thomas W. Eaton, of Wilmington, Del., spiraled his plane, Eaton being killed.
